

Articulation Agreements – 2025

Douglas Education Center (DEC) has entered into articulation agreements with the following institutions and respective programs.

These agreements allow students who have successfully completed approved high school career and technical education (CTE) coursework to earn credit for that instruction once they enroll at DEC. This means students can save time and tuition, avoid repeating material they have already learned, and move more efficiently toward their postsecondary credentials.

To benefit from these opportunities, students must complete the articulated courses within their school's specific agreement, attain the required grade(s) or competency level(s), enroll at DEC within the designated timeframe, and submit any necessary documentation as outlined in the agreement. Depending on the specific articulation agreement or program, students may be required to complete an assessment as part of the application process to demonstrate the level of competency they attained in their high school CTE coursework.

Interested students should speak with their high school CTE representatives, as well as their DEC admissions representative, to understand which credits may transfer and how to ensure they meet all eligibility requirements.
